

Desert Poem

We hiked in the desert.
The sun was so bright.
We looked all around at each wonderful sight.
A hawk that was soaring, each wing like a sail.
A rattlesnake sunning and shaking its tail.
A big old jack rabbit hopped over the ground.
A huge tortoise moved without making a sound.
A desert seems empty but open your eyes.
Each sand dune you come to has a surprise.

Jayden Grabowski
Grade: 4